NMIMS has a well-established online feedback mechanism through LMS Student Portal for communication of perceptions. Online Feedback through Students Portal is taken using a questionnaire in the last session of every course in each Semester. This feedback is compiled and statistics are placed before the Dean by the end of the Semester. The faculty members have access to this feedback on student portal. The Dean discusses individual feedback with each faculty. In case there is some issue, the HOD is also taken into confidence so that corrective action, can be taken in timely manner. The learning and teaching environment is receptive to contributions made by students. The mid-term feedback is utilised to make mid-term corrections for meeting desired expectations of the students. The feedback is utilized to improve on curriculum and also faculty gets an insight into how to make changes in teaching pedagogy. At the end of every term a faculty meeting is held where a review of each course taught is done. The faculty teaching the course discusses the content, the pedagogy and the challenges. The Dean and other faculty members give constructive suggestions during the discussions. This faculty feedback is incorporated to improvise the pedagogy and enhance the teaching learning experience. Employers feedback taken during placements also gets incorporated in the curriculum and improving the skill sets of the students and their grooming. CRITERION VI – GOVERNANCE, LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT

6.1 – Institutional Vision and Leadership

6.1.1 – Mention two practices of decentralization and participative management during the last year (maximum 500 words)

Decentralization It is the process by which the activities of the University regarding planning and decision making are distributed away from a central, authoritative group. Except for policy decisions all other decisions are taken at the school level and departmental level. Independent and autonomous functioning of Schools is encouraged through the policy of delegation and sharing of well-defined expectations. The Department Advisory Board updates the syllabus from time to time and the same is forwarded to HoD, Associate Dean and Dean for approval. The syllabus revisions are finally approved in the Academic Council. Administrative Responsibilities are assigned at the Coordinator, Assistant Registrar and Deputy Registrar level. There is a structured decentralization of responsibilities for both Academic and Administrative functions. Deans of Schools carry out independent decision making for their respective schools. Joint registrars have been appointed for various departments who ensure that the departments run in an efficient manner. Accountability of the departments is ensured by defining the duties, roles and responsibilities of every individual. Powers are also decentralized to the Controller of Examinations, Finance Controller, Librarian and Director Marketing for their respective departmental functions. In the wake of the pandemic in March 2020, all schools were given independent responsibility of ensuring that the academic programs are conducted online, pending course curriculum is completed in time, faculty driven online exams are conducted and results are declared online in time. The process of progression of students to higher classes was completed on time. Academic continuity plan was successfully implemented with the help of the schools. Participative Management The University actively promotes a culture of participative management. It has the following organizational structures that enable participative management in decision making. Board of Management, Academic Council, Dean's Council, Faculty Council, Board of Studies, Department Advisory Board (for technical programs). This enables the University to constantly adopt healthy policies, regularly update the curriculum and resolve issues by participative and constructive discussions. They also deliberate on the suggestions given by IQAC. With the onset of the COVID 19 pandemic NMIMS went through the challenge of ensuring continuity of university academic programs and addressing the concerns of the students. The university constituted a team engaged to handle the discontinuity and disruption with the key objective of ensuring academic continuity. The team consisting of the Chancellor, Vice Chancellor, Pro-Vice Chancellor, Registrar, Controller of Examinations, Deans and Directors of campuses worked with dedication, successfully ensuring the continuity of the academic programs of the university and completion of online exams.

Outcome Based Education Outcome Based Education was initiated for Technical Based programs at NMIMS in 2012. There was a paradigm shift from Input output based education to outcome based education, this pre-dominantly focuses on demonstrating the learning rather than only focusing on teaching. To aid this, a series of training were conducted for faculty members to articulate PEOs, POs and COs. Every course had to be re-defined and this was done systematically. Stakeholder's feedback was collected, analyzed and then practiced. After the technical programs, the regular degree programs were also made to understand these parameters of OBE and the attainment was assessed to understand the program outcomes and course outcomes. This also helps the programs to set a benchmark, identify gaps and weaknesses and work towards improving academics. This will also enable the University to place students who are industry ready and who can adapt to the fast changing environment. This can be achieved by incorporating pedagogy, which is appropriate for the programs. However, we certainly urge to all faculty to give experiential learning experience to all our students.
