The objective behind the screening of the movie 'Aligarh' was to commemorate the Navtej Singh Johar judgement and decriminalization of homosexuality under section 377 of Indian Penal Code. The movie 'Aligarh' is a critically acclaimed movie that has received its fair share of recognition nationally and internationally. It is a heart-wrenching commentary on the plight of a university professor who is brutally put to shame for his sexual orientation by an intrusive and insensitive society. The event received a fair amount of attention as Ritviz, an Indian singer, musician and youtuber and Prime, an American pop musician and LGBTQ+ activist viewed our promotional posts. Pehchaan was successful in bringing on board Arya Senapati, a famous queer activist, social worker and MUNer of Odisha.

And Arya's better half, called and told us that it was a great initiative and he would probably start something on similar lines as Pehchaan. He is also looking forward to open mics since he writes poems. Arya also told that he did not mind Pehchaan interviewing him someday. The event succeeded in bringing up a smile on the faces of the 40 attendees who were kind enough to be a part of our very first event, and was held on 27 September at 8.00 pm.

The screening was completed without any hassles or technical glitches. The screening was a followed by a short vote of thanks to the people who attended the event and we arranged for the audience, a general session for exchange of ideas, views and comments on the movie. Pehchaan, since its inception as a committee, has had the vision of creating a safe and inclusive place for all. It aims to tackle the issue of intentional and unintentional discrimination through sensitisation and dialogue between people in the college. The event was aimed to create awareness on the forms of discrimination faced by the LGBTQ+ community due to ignorance and non-acceptance by the society.

On the 1st of November 2021, Team SRF organized a distribution campaign at the Vile Parle and Andheri train stations. The distribution drive was conducted on the occasion of Diwali and due to this prosperous occasion, students decided to brighten up the lives of people by distributing sweets, chocolates and other refreshments along with masks and sanitizers to the homeless as well as individual services. We also provided children with books and stationery to support their education and help them bridge the gap to be good students. The gathering for the distribution drive included members of the SRF team who live in Mumbai, including first-year students.

Kshamta, the social responsibility forum of Shobhaben Pratapbhai Patel School of Pharmacy & Technology Management, of SVKM's NMIMS University, is a student driven task force which aspires to make a difference to society by a gamut of socially conscientious activities. Since its inception, Kshamta has strived to create public health awareness across sections of society. The collective aspiration of team Kshamta to improve the health standards of rural and poor families and be one of a kind in its field is what set the wheels of Aarogya 2022 in motion. Aarogya is the flagship event of Team Kshamta, that aims to provide free primary healthcare to the local community in the form of free diagnostic tests and medicine distribution. It is a professional health - camp alongwith doctors and medical aids. Kshamta organizes this free walk-in health check- up for those who are discounted on account of affordability or awareness.

The team conducted a free health camp, which included the following diagnostic tests:

- Height, Weight, Body Mass Index
- Blood Work – Blood glucose, Hemoglobin, Blood group
- Eye Test
- Dental Test
- Skin Test
- Blood pressure
- Gynecologist consultation (for girls)
- General practitioner consultation
