Every moment of the game was a sight to behold and all the team poured their blood, sweat and tears in equal measure. In sports, some teams are more equal than others and it was the case with NM Star Smashers who won the thrilling finals held in our very own sports lounge. NMIMS Table Tennis League is more than just a competition; it's a celebration of sportsmanship and a testament to the vibrant campus life at NMIMS.

1. Report of the event

Objective of the event

- The NGO Sports Day at NMIMS in 2019 was a significant event aimed at fostering community spirit and promoting social responsibility among students.
- The primary objective of the NGO Sports Day was to engage students with local NGOs (Non-Governmental Organizations) through sports and recreational activities. The event sought to:
 - Promote Awareness: Increase awareness about various social issues and the work done by different NGOs.
 - Encourage Participation: Involve students in community service and social causes in an engaging manner.
 - Build Relationships: Strengthen the connection between students and NGOs, fostering a spirit of collaboration and mutual support.

The atmosphere at the NGO Sports Day was vibrant and energetic, with a strong sense of camaraderie among participants. It was a day filled with athletic excitement, meaningful interactions, and a shared commitment to social betterment. The event not only provided entertainment but also reinforced the importance of giving back to society and supporting causes that benefit the community. The day featured a range of sports activities, including team sports like cricket, football, and volleyball, as well as individual events such as track and field competitions. The idea was to create a fun and competitive environment while promoting teamwork and sportsmanship. Various NGOs were invited to participate and interact with students. Representatives from these organizations were present, engaging in both sports activities and informational sessions about their causes and initiatives. NMIMS students formed teams to compete in the sports events. These teams were often mixed, including students from different programs and backgrounds, fostering inclusivity and unity.

Information booths were set up by the NGOs to provide students with details about their missions, ongoing projects, and how to get involved. These booths served as an educational platform and encouraged students to contribute in their own capacity. The event concluded with a prize distribution ceremony where winning teams and outstanding participants were recognized. Prizes and certificates were awarded, and the efforts of both students and NGOs were celebrated. The Sports Day also served as a fundraising opportunity for some NGOs. Donations and contributions from the event were directed towards supporting various social causes championed by the participating organizations.
